About Us

Behind every test result is someone waiting for answers. At Doctrix Medical Laboratory, we never forget that.

We are a Medical Laboratory founded by an experienced pathologist who spent years seeing how much an accurate clinical laboratory measurement forms the scientific basis for the right medical diagnosis, and how much precision in those early lab results shapes the medical management. That experience drives everything we do.

What guides us

Every sample is not just a vial or a slide; it's someone's health, their questions, their next steps. We treat it that way.

Our team is chosen for both skill and character. Medical excellence matters, but so does integrity. We hold ourselves to rigorous standards because we know physicians rely on our reports to make critical decisions about their patients' care.

Why trust us

We don't compromise on three things: the quality of our testing, the technology we use, and the knowledge we bring to every case.

We stay current because your health deserves nothing less than our best work.
